

Why Artificial Intelligence is needed?

Basic purpose of Artificial Intelligence is to do mechanization and to reduce the role of human beings in the process of manufacturing or any activity or to show that we are superior to others, nothing else.

Now question: Do we really need Artificial Intelligence, when portion of the population in each country is under employed?

Everyone who will be using Artificial Intelligence will have to shelve out, an exorbitant amount before it will be put to use. In this case utility of Artificial Intelligence and money shelved matrix has to be worked out and that too only after a person has shelved out exorbitant amount.

In this case proportionate risk will be very high towards the humanity. With the help of Artificial Intelligence a substantial portion of men force will be displaced, which will cause a disservice to the mankind.

Any person or country should develop only those products or services which are beneficial and useful to mankind and improves quality of life of a common man, rather than concentrating power within few hands.

Our opinion about Artificial Intelligence.

It is a disservice to the mankind and a black spot in the history of modern technology and should not be allowed to use in our country Hindustan

According to our estimates, in coming near future Importance and role of Information Technology will also reduce drastically, due to change in the methods of management and its areas of application. It will be because of simplification and its utilization base in the world. In this scenario, it will be a futile exercise to think and apply Artificial Intelligence.

Above all:

No intelligence can be superior to Human intelligence; therefore, we strictly oppose the idea of Artificial Intelligence. Majority of the applications are/will be absurd like, ordering in a Restaurant etc which was displayed on TV few months back.

Note: In repetitive, monotonous and where job is around the clock, in such applications, AI should be used considering the role of human beings and their respect.
